

Moving Ahead

Vision. Human. Work.

Winfried Hacker

Retired professor in the department of psychology at the Technische Universität Dresden (TUD)/Germany.

- 2015 – 2000 Since retirement (2000) honorary head of an applied research unit at TUD.
Simultaneously:
- 2013 – 2009 Guest lecturer at University of Innsbruck/Austria (Naturalistic Cognition) and Dresden International University (Work & Organizational Psychology).
 - 2009 – 2006 Temporary head of chair of psychology at Technische Universität München.
- 2000 – 1966 Professor of Psychology at TUD.
- 2000 – 1962 Guest lecturer at several universities (Germany, Austria, Switzerland).
- 1961 Ph.D. (TUD).
- 1957 Diploma degree in psychology (TUD).

Research interests include Action Regulation Theory and its applications, design thinking, organizational-level prevention of mental workload. Scientific writing has appeared in academic periodicals of psychology and engineering design. Several scientific books; 2013 the seventh revised German edition of a textbook on Action Regulation Theory (“Allgemeine Arbeitspsychologie”).

Member of Academia Europaea, Saxon Academy of Science. 1994 – 1997 president of German Association of Ergonomics.
APS fellow 2011.